WHEREAS, House Joint Resolution No. 29 (2015) requested a study of the availability, billing practices, and insurer network participation of air ambulance services;

WHEREAS, the study revealed significant gaps between many air ambulances' billed charges and insurers' reimbursement rates;

WHEREAS, these gaps have resulted in air ambulance patients receiving crippling balance bills and the proliferation of air ambulance subscription programs;

WHEREAS, this problem is compounded by deficiencies in insurer networks with respect to air ambulances; and

WHEREAS, certain marketing tactics and a lack of subscription program reciprocity result in consumers
