HJR 21 - STUDY OF PERSONAL INFORMATION OWNERSHIP Study Plan As Adopted on Nov. 17, 2015

Meeting Date	Study Resolution Task(s) - Study Questions	Staff Tasks	Committee Tasks
Feb. 10, 2016	 Clarify levels of ownership and methods by which individuals may exercise and enforce their rights. (a) What does "ownership" mean legally? (b) To what extent is "ownership" similar to a "property right"? (c) In what ways may individuals exercise these rights? (d) How have other states answered these questions? 	 Prepare research brief on legal theory of "ownership" and "property rights" with respect to personal information. Invite expert speakers on ways in which individuals may exercise these rights? Invite expert speakers and/or prepare staff briefing on other states 	 Discuss what "personal information property" means to committee members What types of information are of most interest to the committee (e.g., medical information, online information, consumer data, etc.)? What individual rights with respect to these information areas are most important to the committee (e.g. consent provisions, monetary value of information, control of use, etc.)? Which other states would the committee like to research further?

Meeting Date	Study Resolution Task(s) - Study Questions	Staff Tasks	Committee Tasks
April 19	 2. Find methods for consumers to exclude their personal information property from use without severely inhibiting private sector and government function. (a) Who benefits from the use of the personal information and how? (b) If consumers may exclude their information from use, to what extent will private sector or government functions be inhibited? (c) What methods have other states used? 	Based on the committee's guidance with respect to what "personal information property" means, conduct research and invite expert speakers to address the study questions.	Of the methods that may be used by consumers to exclude their personal information property from use, which are of most interest to the committee?

Meeting Date	Study Resolution Task(s) - Study Questions	Staff Tasks	Committee Tasks
June 21	 3. Explore opportunities to provide greater power and control to people regarding information collected about them. Based on the Committee's guidance to this point: (a) How could Montana's current laws provide people with greater power and control? (b) Should new laws be enacted, and if so, what should the laws provide for? 	 ANALYZE OPTIONS/DEVELOP RECOMMENDATIONS Provide further research on the topics and methods of consumer control of most interest to the committee. Identify sample legislation or laws in other states that could achieve the committee's goals. Invite speakers to provide their perspectives and recommendations. 	ANALYZE OPTIONS/DEVELOP RECOMMENDATIONS • Develop preliminary recommendations (e.g., request specific bill drafts)
Aug. 23	4. Develop findings and recommendations to be presented to the next legislature.	 FINALIZE RECOMMENDATIONS Present draft bills Invite speakers to present their analysis and recommendations on the bills 	Revise and adopt final recommendations, including any bill drafts