MDC CLOSURE: CLIENT STATUS AS OF AUG. 28, 2018

Background

The 2015 Legislature passed Senate Bill 411, requiring the Department of Public Health and Human Services to develop and put into place a plan to close the Montana Developmental Center (MDC) by June 30, 2017. As part of that effort, the department was supposed to transition most of the residents out of the facility and into community services by Dec. 31, 2016.

When SB 411 passed in 2015, 52 individuals were at MDC. Twenty-five clients remained at the facility at the end of 2016, just six months before it was to close. The 2017 Legislature passed House Bill 387 to extend the closure date for a portion of the MDC campus for 2 years. The bill also allowed a 12-bed locked building to remain open permanently as an Intensive Behavior Center (IBC). The IBC is to serve individuals who are committed by a court at the request of DPHHS because of "continuous or repeated behaviors that pose an imminent risk of serious harm to self or others." Commitments and recommitments are limited to 90 days.

This briefing paper discusses the number and status of MDC clients as of Aug. 28, 2018.

MDC Population

The census at MDC declined from 13 to 12 between June 5 and Aug. 28. The one person who left had been at MDC on a criminal commitment and went from the IBC to Montana State Prison.

Of the 12 individuals at the Boulder campus:

- 11 were at the IBC, and one was living in a cottage;
- 11 were placed at MDC through civil commitments, and one of the 11 was still at MDC voluntarily because the person's civil commitment order had expired;
 - one was sentenced to DPHHS custody after committing crimes;
 - seven had been accepted into and were awaiting placement in community services; and
 - five were not yet referred for placement in the community. They were not considered ready to return to the community because of their behaviors.

The table on the back summarizes key information about the individuals who were at MDC as of Aug. 28, by type of admission.
